

Pulling Down the Moon (Before You)

Wild Nothing

Hear you running to the door
A small voice says, "Wake up"
So I do what I'm told
Little chaos at my feet
I can't remember being so afraid to fold
And I can't remember just what I thought love was

(Before you)
I was so certain I knew everything
(Before you)
I thought only of myself

I'm out pulling down the moon for you to play
Where's the ceiling?
There's no pain that I won't take
And there's still so much I can't control
And I know I'll stumble, truth be told
A whole existence I can hold
But won't ever weigh me down

(Before you)
I was so certain I knew everything
(Before you)
I thought only of myself
Before you
I was so certain I knew every little thing
(Before you)
I thought only of myself
But now you're here and so am I

(Before you)
I was so certain I knew everything
(Before you)
I thought only of myself
(Before you)
I was so certain I knew every little thing
(Before you)
I thought only of myself
But now you're here and so am I
