

Hide Anymore

Wilder Woods

I wanna wake up
And know all the signs I'm chasing
Might lead me on down the road
Where you'll be waiting

Can't keep on driving, lying
Crying in the backseat
But when I try to take the wheel
You take it from me
Life is a map left undrawn
And we're all pretending

I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need you not to hide anymore

How many miles will I go
'Til the coast is on my bow
It's a fight just to float
The weight is pulling me down

Can't keep on driving, lying
Crying in the backseat
But when I try to take the wheel
You take it from me
Life is an ocean unknown
And we're all descendants

I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need you not to hide anymore

The hope the shame
The crown of thorns
The love the pain, I felt it all
I know your name, I hear your calling
I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need ya

Oh is it fate or did I choose
Is this a test or is it true
The wars I rage because of you
I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need ya
I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need ya
I really need you not to hide anymore
I really need you not to hide anymore
