You know me

Hold tight the ladies

Yeah

Eski

Boy

Yo

I can remember when we met

You was looking my eye from the table over there

I just received my first cheque

I was signed to XL but I had to move away

Bricks in academy, was me and Target

Pay as You Go

You were sitting on the table with Ms Dynamite

Me and [?] was rolling

[?], Ace, Genius, Slimzee

[?] in Prada shoe

Yeah, we first met

I can remember when we met

You was looking my eye from the table over there

I just received my first cheque

I was signed to XL but I had to move away

And that weren't the first time I saw you

Because a year later, man had a booking

Driving up to Holloway road now like 'get to the booking'

Get on stage, doing the ting now

All of a sudden, I like, I sight you over there

But I wasn't sure if it was you though

But then I look back though and I said

"You know what? That is her"

And you know what? The first time, I left it

I can remember when we met

You was looking my eye from the table over there

I just received my first cheque

I was signed to XL but I had to move away

So like, the next time I saw you was like the same place

But it was the next booking

So when I walked like, I thought "you know what? It's time now"

I've seen her like three times now, it's definitely time

Then one yout come up to me and said "yeah, bla, bla, bla"

So it looked like we both recognise like, what was going on, innit

And it all went from there, really, you know what I mean?

I can remember when we met

You was looking my eye from the table over there

I just received my first cheque

I was signed to XL but I had to move away

The next day though, you was going up to Scotland, innit

So like, we was talking on the phone, you told me to come up

I 've made my way up
And that was the very first date

I can remember when we met
You was looking my eye from the table over there
I just received my first cheque
I was signed to XL but I had to move away
