

Born On My Own

Wiley

Yeah

I came into the squad on my own

I was born on my own, I'll die on my own

I was born on my own, I'll die on my own

And when I was born, there was no mobile phones

And my mummy left in over at my granny

So I used to cry because I wanted to see my daddy

But he used to leave me

So when I grow older, I turn against him

I tell daddy "shut your mouth"

Because I was born on my own, I'll die on my own

And no one can tell me nothing, star

Ignorant

I was born on my own and I'll die on my own

There wasn't even telephones of these days

There used to be telephones where you put your finger in and turn it round

So shut your mouth because your mum's a cloud

Your dad, your ex girlfriends and everyone

I'll shut them down

And tell your great grand dad, suck your mum

Because I was born on my own, I'll die on my own

Pricks

We're fucking gangsters

Pricks

I was born on my own and I'll die on my own

I'm straight from E3

But we tour all over the globe

And if you fuck about, I'll leave you [?] lying on the floor, lonely

Six shells in the store

Because I was born on my own and I'll die on my own

You didn't hear me, I was born on my own and I'll die on my own

Aha
