

I wonder why we're always on and off
It's like you've got a button pressing on and off
It's cool when you're going on your own missions
The restrictions you put on me, I got them off
The time spent apart's got me looking forward
But then I hit the club and see you, now it's really awkward
Emotional and I can feel you looking
I wish we never took it to the places that we took it

How many times can we end up in the same places? (Real shame)
Running from the pain but we still end up in my bed, yeah
We just couldn't get over, over, over (yeah, yeah)
Over, over, over it
It's been a minute since I called you mine
But somehow you're still in my life, yeah
Over, over, over it (yeah, yeah, yeah)

When we shouldn't speak we're trying to speak
When we shouldn't meet we're trying to meet
I'd be a liar if I told you when I saw you girl
I couldn't feel the fire flaming up from underneath my feet
We're good and then it's acting weird in a couple weeks
If only there was middle ground for you and me
Without the arguments we're winning
Sometimes I like to be alone chilling
Our love is like a time bomb, I'm trying to keep it cool
I know it's going to go off, there's nothing we can do
Feeling like a cycle, the pattern's rotating
We know there's something stopping us but we don't want to face it

How many times can we end up in the same places? (Real shame)
Running from the pain but we still end up in my bed, yeah
We just couldn't get over, over, over (yeah, yeah)
Over, over, over it
It's been a minute since I called you mine
But somehow you're still in my life, yeah
Over, over, over it

Ooo, when I see you baby
You done know it's a shutdown ting
Say I don't but I need you baby
You're too bad for a one-night ting
No one that
No no no

We just couldn't get over, over, over
(I can't get over it baby, I can't do that)
Over, over, over it
It's been a minute since I called you mine
But somehow you're still in my life, yeah
Over, over, over it
Yeah, I'm not over it
It's Double M and Wiley, yeah
It's Double M and Wiley, yeah
