I remember when we went in
Multicoloured paint on my skin
Couldn't bare the night turning into daylight
You're the only thing that I need
The silence in the air that I breathe
Sun is in your eyes, hold me in your mind

And I
I think I could get used to this
I think I could get used to this
And I
I think I could get used to this
Do you think you could get used to this?

I remember when we went in
Multicoloured paint on my skin
Couldn't bare the night turning into daylight
You're the only thing that I need
The silence in the air that I breathe
Sun is in your eyes, hold me in your mind

And I
I think I could get used to this
I think I could get used to this
And I
I think I could get used to this
Do you think you could get used to this?

(I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
Used to this, used to this
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
Used to this, used to this)

Outside today, early-early rise today
Don't care if we die today
Least we know we've tried today, tried today
Tried today, early-early rise today
Don't care if we die today
Least we know we've tried today, tried today

I remember when we went in
Multicoloured paint on my skin
Couldn't bare the night turning into daylight
You're the only thing that I need
The silence in the air that I breathe
Sun is in your eyes, hold me in your mind

And I
I think I could get used to this
I think I could get used to this
And I
I think I could get used to this
Do you think you could get used to this?

(I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
Used to this, used to this
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
I think I could, I think I could get
Used to this, used to this)
