

Even the River Runs out of This Town

Will Hoge

I hope the skies are beautiful and blue
Wherever it is you, find yourself tonight
I hope the miles help to find your smile
Cause it's been gone awhile
And if I told the truth

You can't blame a heart for getting broken
You can't change the color of the blues
The railroad track and the highway
I guess it's your turn now
Even the river runs out of this town

Part of me hates to see you leaving
But the bigger part's believing it's what you had to do
You can't burn bright in a town this dark
Can't hitch your wishes to a one horse star
And I can't blame you for that

You can't blame a heart for getting broken
You can't change the color of the blues
The railroad track and the highway
I guess it's your turn now
Even the river runs out of this town

You can't blame a heart for getting broken
You can't change the color of the blues
The railroad track and the highway
I guess it's your turn now
Even the river runs out of this town

And I love you so much
I ain't asking you to stick around
Even the river runs out of this town