

Awake

Will Sparks

We all go through life in periods of stagnation
Waiting for a moment to be set free
We're hiding our lives
We stand in line
We wait for our time just trying to get through the grind
But as we're flowing through these blissful times
We rest and wait for the perfect moment
The moment between darkness and light
Can you feel it?
You're born to be awake

You're born to be awake
You're born to be alive
You're born to be right here
You're born for this night
You're born to be awake
You're born to be awake
You're born to be awake

You're born to be awake

We all go through life in periods of stagnation
Waiting for a moment to be set free
We're hiding our lives
We stand in line
We wait for our time just trying to get through the grind
But as we're flowing through these blissful times
We rest and wait for the perfect moment
The moment between darkness and light
Can you feel it? Inside of you
Burning inside, waiting for release?
All it takes is a glimpse
A step into the rave
Get the music on your mind
Right now it feels right
You're born to be awake

You're born to be awake
You're born to be alive
You're born to be right here
You're born for this night
You're born to be awake
You're born to be awake
You're born to be awake
