

Don't Look Down

William Black

(Oh, baby, don't look down)

On the good days
We would always
Promise we got each other
But our words don't mean a damn thing
If we keep on treadin' water

We can't fight the changing tides
So do we hold on or just let go?
It's too late to look back now, oh woah

Oh, baby, don't look down
We're drifting into the unknown
It's just you and I
And no ground left to follow
So tell me now
Will you hold me up?
Will you believe in my promise of tomorrow
Baby, don't look down
We're driftin' into the unknown
Don't look down

Don't look down

I've been tryin' to figure out
Why it's always the good who go down
We were perfect but I was sure that
We wouldn't be stick and stones now

We can't fight the changing tides
So do we hold on or just let go?
It's too late to look back now, oh woah

Oh, baby, don't look down
We're drifting into the unknown
It's just you and I
So tell me now
Will you hold me up?
Will you believe in my promise of tomorrow?
Baby, don't look down
We're driftin' into the unknown
Don't look down

Don't look down
Don't look down
