

Haven

William Black

Slipped through the cracks, now it feels so far
I saw you give it all that you got, but it fell apart
Don't run away if you're in the dark
I'm only just a phone call away from where you are

Oh honey, I know you so well
I know you never ask for help
Even when you're bleeding
When I know you need it
Don't have to keep it to yourself
'Cause I remember how it felt
Thinking that you're broken
So maybe for a moment

I can be your safety, somewhere you can hide
Wrap you up in my wings in these harder times
Maybe I can't make it better but I promise that I'll try
When you're close to breaking, let me be your haven tonight

(Let me be your haven tonight)
Let me be your haven tonight
Let me be your haven tonight

Tell me your thoughts, get 'em off your mind
I wanna hear your secrets and doubts and what you left behind
Easy to think there's no end in sight
But you'll see the scars that you have are the same as mine

I can be your safety, somewhere you can hide
Wrap you up in my wings in these harder times
Maybe I can't make it better but I promise that I'll try
When you're close to breaking, let me be your haven tonight

(Let me be your haven tonight)
Let me be your haven tonight
Let me be your haven tonight
Let me be your haven tonight
