

Never Be the Same

William Black

I feel I'm falling apart
Don't let me implode
There's such a weight on my heart
Open and exposed

I put it all on my sleeve
Just to bleed a little more than usual
This is all we have
So when we go down, we bounce right back again

Immortal souls
Tomorrow's home
It lies in the distance
The sunset calls our names
The window is wide open
We'll never be the same

We'll never be the same

The darkness soon will depart
When we let it go
I think I'm back at the start
Reset and reload

I put it all on my sleeve
Just to bleed a little more than usual
This is all we have
So when we go down, we bounce right back again

Immortal souls
Tomorrow's home
It lies in the distance
The sunset calls our names
The window is wide open
We'll never be the same

We'll never be the same
