

The Sun Don't Shine Anymore In Acapulco

William Michael Morgan

This used to be my favorite place
For having fun and getting sunlight on my face
But now I don't need protection
I've put away my Ray Bans
Yeah, they might as well be buried here in the sand

Cause the sun don't shine anymore in Acapulco
And the seagulls don't fly above the bay
Her goodbye put the clouds in the sky
And turned that warm breeze cold
Now the birds don't fly and the sun don't shine
Anymore in Acapulco

I thought coming down might do me good
But I was wrong for ever thinking that it would I've failed to make new memories
And I can't drink her off my mind
So I might as well go home cause I'm through trying

Cause the sun don't shine anymore in Acapulco
And the seagulls don't fly above the bay
Her goodbye put the clouds in the sky
And turned that warm breeze cold
Now the birds don't fly and the sun don't shine
Anymore in Acapulco

Cause the sun don't shine anymore in Acapulco
And the seagulls don't fly above the bay
Her goodbye put the clouds in the sky
And turned that warm breeze cold
Now the birds don't fly and the sun don't shine
No, she's no longer mine
Yeah, the sun don't shine
Anymore in Acapulco

No, it don't
