

I've Just Destroyed the World

Willie Nelson

The sun just went behind the cloud:
There's darkness all around me now.
I've just destroyed the world I'm livin' in.
I broke her heart so many times:
Now at last I've broken mine,
An' I've just destroyed the world I'm livin' in.

What made me think that I could go on hurtin' her?
I should have known there had to be an end.
(Had to be an end.)
The schools of love are taught by Faith,
We never learn till it's too late.
I've just destroyed the world I'm livin' in.

(Destroyed the world I'm livin' in.)
(I've just destroyed the world I'm livin' in.)

What made me think that I could go on hurtin' her?
I should have known there had to be an end.
(Had to be an end.)
The schools of love are taught by Faith,
We never learn till it's too late.
An' I've just destroyed the world I'm livin' in.

(Destroyed the world I'm livin' in.)
(Destroyed the world that I'm livin' in.)
(Destroyed the world I'm livin' in.)
(Destroyed the world I'm livin' in.)
