

Something We Regret

Willow Avalon

One, two, three, four

I love you like sugar, you love me like sex
Put us both together, we'll do something we regret
I shoot you like whiskey and you sip me like red
Put us both together we'll do something we regret

Woke up in the mornin and he was in my bed
Pink satin sheets around our legs
I can still taste the tobacco on his breath
Rolled me up, he smoked me then he left

I love you like sugar
You love me like sex
Put us both together
We'll do something we regret
I shoot you like whiskey and you sip me like red
Put us both together we'll do something we regret

Burning like a wildfire, fiddles in my head Playing every lie he ever said sugar or whiskey, the devils taking bets
Sometimes what you loves what you regret
Sometimes what you loves what you regret

I love you like sugar, you love me like sex
Put us both together, we'll do something we regret
I shoot you like whiskey and you sip me like red
Put us both together we'll do something we regret

I love you like sugar, you love me like sex
Put us both together, we'll do something we regret
