

Lipstick

Willow

Lipstick on a mirror
Saying who you wanna be
Vision gets dimmer
The room is closing in on me
Oh

I'm feeling far away, no space, no time
Looking at life through a blue bird's eye
(I'm flying, I'm flying, I'm flying, I'm flying)
And I went up so far, I took my time
Tell me why I couldn't ever find cloud nine
(Alright, alright, alright, alright)

I spread my wings
The song they sing
I owe it all to you
I owe it all to you

It's just smoke and mirrors
They said it's gonna take some time
I think we live in a labyrinth
That was created by my mind
Oh

I never wanted to just suffer inside
Hurt don't heal when I'm always tryna hide
(That's right, that's right, that's right, that's right)
And I'm looking at pain like my old close friend
Open arms for her when I see her again
(That's right, that's right, alright, alright)

I spread my wings
The song they sing
I owe it all to you
I owe it all to you

(Flying
Fly, fly, flying
Went up so
Went up so far
Fly, flying
Flying)
