

Trollslayer

Wind Rose

In battles long gone
With Grimnir the lord of warriors
His legend alone is enough to deal
With Chaos on the battlefield

Valaya's my home
The Goddess of earth, of runes and hills
She's guarding us all in the lands of the north
Where I will make no return

The father of Dwarves
The lord of our mines: Grungni
Will pave us the way with his hammer
Striking hard as lightning

I'll follow my fate
I'll follow my fate, of curse and agony
It's all that I feel
The blood drips from the skull of the enemies

Upon the night
I will face the doom of the trollslayer
Forever bound
I will fight for the doom of the trollslayer
Upon this night
I will face the doom of the trollslayer
Forever bound
I will fight till the doom of the trollslayer is gone

My destiny's clear
Accepting the end in front of me
I've got no remorse and no doubts
To fight and fall on the battlefield

The honor is near
As long as I get close to the fall
A promise is gone and a pact of blood
For the way of the slayer is done

If the day was won and we all were gone
With The Chaos at the gates
For the ancient promise unbound
To eternity we will endure our fate

And our time has come, with the fear of none
In the fields our battle cry
Right among the enemy's lines
It's where a slayer's gone by

If the day was won and we all were gone
With The Chaos at the gates
For the ancient promise unbound
To eternity we will endure our fate

And our time has come, with the fear of none
In the fields our battle cry

It's where a slayer's gone by

Upon the night

I will face the doom of the trollslayer

Forever bound

I will fight for the doom of the trollslayer

Upon this night

I will face the doom of the trollslayer

Forever bound

I will fight till the doom of the trollslayer is gone

I will fight till the doom of the trollslayer is gone

I will fight till the doom of the trollslayer is gone
