

We didn't choose to be born but I'll choose how I die
Go!

I'd like to properly introduce myself
I am your downfall (downfall)
I am your downfall (downfall)
Bleagh!

I represent so many before me and so many to come
Since day one you've been pushing us out
But who are you to say we never belonged?

I never said I was perfect but who's to say they are?
In a world surrounded by the consequence of man
Fuck it, you'll never understand

I'll face my past with open arms (with open arms)
And scars on my back
Your book ends where this started
I'll face my past with open arms (with open arms)
And scars on my back
Your book ends where this started
