

Distorted Dimension

Winds

Channeling my thoughts to another dimension
Searching for symbols of cosmic intervention
Entering thoughts of subliminal emotions
They are like waterfalls of desert oceans
I exit this mindset and enter actuality
An everlasting reminder of a distorted reality
Trying to make it out from a distance

Listening for sounds of a meaningful existence
The call is like a faint noise distorted yet clear
The answer to the riddle still out there somewhere
Back and forth again to find the right course
Encountering signs of a creationistic force
Fragments of space-time in a pocket universe
One step ahead to take another in reverse
The call is like a faint noise distorted yet clear
The answer to the riddle still out there somewhere
