

Awake

Windwaker

We cannot change forever
But now you got to go away
I don't want to say goodbye
One more time
I won't be back to you

Re-designed it, my face
Re-define what's left
Not a sense of direction
The door is closing

I wake in this silence
Drowning in earth, contorting disbelief
We feel our signal
And light up the nights
And falling far beyond life now

I won't forget
I won't forget you now
A sadness, oh so heavy
But it leaves you so much room to heal
The light will be with you now

I won't forget
I won't forget you now
It seems it's so much clearer
The light will be with you now

I've always had so much to say
But hear me dreaming, it's your fate
I feel you're watching from the grave
I'll make you proud everyday
But I've been so lost without you
And nothing I'm trying will help get me through
The days when I feel asleep alone
Forever awake

Come back to erase
While I dissipate
So break up the shame
And crawl up the Earth

The silence is broken
The memories will fade
A matter of darkness
I can't keep you awake

The silence is broken
The memories will fade
A matter of darkness

Come back to erase
While I dissipate

I won't forget
But it leaves you so much room to heal
The light will be with you now

I won't forget
It seems it's so much clearer
The light will be with you now
