

Fractured State Of Mind

Windwaker

Go!

Now listen up
It's a perfect reminder
For the back of your mind
We're just a slave to the lies
That we exercise
This is a perfect reminder
No one else has the answers
Living only to die
A number in your sadness

I can't fight
A spite filled life
I'm fucking sick of this world
And it's passengers
There's no escape from the blade

No light, midnight
Crave the taste of a new life
Take flight, midnight
Gripping peace just to feel right
No light, hopeless
God, I can't seem to focus
But I hope that you know this

I don't really wanna break apart
Tried to stop it but my hands were scarred
From all your knives digging into my fractured state of mind
I don't really wanna watch you go
But without you I don't feel at home
With all these knives digging into my fractured state of mind
I can't watch you go

So fractured
I'm so fractured
Sliced down my side
Pulled apart by your actions
So fractured
Cut by your passion
Invite the fire
For the end of our chapter

Hate to watch you go
Hate to watch you burn
Hate to live with this silence
Hate to make you stay
Hate to see you play
Hate to hate all your guidance
Hate to see all the violence
Hate to live so defiant
Hate to say you can try it
We're all so fucked

I can't fight

But without you I don't feel at home
With all these knives digging into my fractured state of mind

My hands stay scarred
Sands spills from my heart
Once more on my own
I can't feel at home

I can't watch you go...
