

My Empire

Windwaker

Time is on my side, it's been healing me
And I can see the light upon the ground
Life is golden now, it's fulfilling me
And my empire lifts me through the clouds

I'm not giving up
I'm not coming home
Time is on my side, time is on my side
I'm not coming home

Did you ever think your life would change
As you struggle through pillows and you forget your name?
Did you ever think your life would change
As you live each day the same?

They'll never give you a way out, they'll rise up like kings
Summoning oppression, carried out on a whim to live
Intangible diseases bury me
Into the soil, crippled by gravity
You sat here telling me off, you put me in my place
Not once has memory come to help us see change
We're pulling back on ascension
We're pulling back on ascension, are we aligned?

I have found my peace
And my empire lifts me through the clouds

I'm not giving up
I'm not coming home
Time is on my side, time is on my side
I'm not coming home

Did you ever think your life would change
As you struggle through pillows and you forget your name?
Did you ever think your life would change
As you live each day the same?

Brooding medicine
Did you ever think your life would change?
Brooding medicine
