

New Infinite

Windwaker

Burn; directional undertow
Seperate yourself from the vision and what you know
It never ends, so take what you will
We limit our projection
Suffering intention

Guide me through the open space
Lead me from the disarray

I am not alone

We walk through the rain
It's clouding up our senses
My heart is at a dead end
I'm lost with no direction

We all feel the pain
It's beating our defences
My heart is at a dead end
I'm lost with no direction

It's like a maze runs through my head
Twists and bends with no ends

Help me see a clearer direction
Help me run away from demons
I am not alone

Give me something to believe in

We walk through the rain
It's clouding up our senses
My heart is at a dead end
I'm lost with no direction

We all feel the pain
It's beating our defences
My heart is at a dead end
I'm lost with no direction

More, more, more
Dissolve in vanity
More, more, more
Incapsulate my entirety
Breathe a new life in me
We limit our projection
Suffering intention

Give me something to believe in

More, more, more
Dissolve in vanity
More, more, more
Incapsulate my entirety
Breathe a new life in me
An infinite projection
I'll find my direction
