

The Wall

Windwaker

Enter the wall

I'm always staring at the wall like it's gonna speak
Life's bleak, nothing's getting better, better off asleep
Bright sparks in the dark, I just wanna leave but now
I'm sitting staring at the wall (I'm always staring at the wall)
Bring it back toe tapping with the devil on my shoulder
On another level, told ya when I get 'em then it's over
Put 'em on L, uh let 'em know
Got something on my mind, in a bind tryna get out of this hole
Whoa

I see the sky pull away in the distance
And now the panic sets in
The wind cuts a silhouette of my outline
Pressed up on the roof are my insides falling out
Tear back my skin tight
The flames inch a little close to my eye line
Exhale at midnight
Melt in to the fucking roof

I'm always staring at the wall
I'm always staring at the wall
I'm always staring at the wall
I'm always staring at the wall

Get up, I mean it
Get up and breathe in
Get it together, uh
Pull out the meaning, shatter the dream
I am the tether
Never to beat it, better to see it
Get it together
Pull out the meaning, shatter the dream
I am the tether

Tear back my skin tight
Open my mind
Exhale at midnight
Inhale fire

I'm always staring at the wall like it's gonna speak
Life's bleak, nothing's getting better, better off asleep
Bright sparks in the dark, I just wanna leave
But now I'm sitting staring at the wall
I'm always staring at the wall like it's gonna speak
Life's bleak, nothing's getting better, better off asleep
Bright sparks in the dark, I just wanna leave
But now I'm sitting staring at the wall
