

You give me vertigo
Whoa
You give me vertigo
So break your fantasy, revising reality
One false step and I'm falling out
So send me back, just send me back to Earth

Send me back to Earth and feed the thirst
You'll only make it worse
Back up the hearse, fall in head first
No chance to make it out

The voices in my head, never had an answer
Four years on, moving on from disaster
No matter what they say, we're imperfect and flawed
The pedestal you gave me, I never asked for

You give me vertigo, whoa
You give me vertigo, and I can't come down
You give me vertigo, whoa
So break your fantasy
And send me back down to Earth

Your passion is gassing me up, but I'm passing it up
Falling fast into dust
No mask when I'm crashing, I'm done, reaching out to the dark
Holding out for you to save me

This crown is a cancer, I'll cut it out
Split me in two and let go, let go
Of the one you think you know
Disgust your lust
I've had enough

You give me vertigo, whoa
You give me vertigo, and I can't come down
You give me vertigo, whoa
So break your fantasy
And send me back down to Earth

Send me back to Earth and feed the thirst
You'll only make it worse
Back up the hearse, fall in head first
No chance to make it out
Massacred
From the impact
Find my corpse on the pavement
Fell from the throne that you gave me

Give me vertigo, whoa
You give me vertigo, and I can't come down
You give me vertigo, whoa
So break your fantasy
And send me back down to Earth