

Villain

Windwaker

Is this a sign?
Are you questioning your choices or just dying on the inside?
When stars collide
And burn up all that's left of our old lives
Will you say goodbye?

We've been down this same old sorry road
Always pushing back on the lines I wrote
You just save yourself
Left us to hell
If the past makes us what we are right now
And the price you pay just to win your crown
Will you say goodbye?
(Say goodbye)

You can't just die die die die
No matter where you run just
Hide hide hide from view
You pay more than you owe
But I can't watch you go
If I am the one thing you are holding on to
I can't hold on to you

I'll break you beyond obscurity
Never to be remembered
You are just a passing wave in the Water
Sink in to your panic with no one to bother

You can't just die die die die
No matter where you run just
Hide hide hide from view
You pay more than you owe
But I can't watch you go
If I am the one thing you are holding on to
I can't hold on to you

No one speaks for what feels like eternity
What's up in the air is exactly what is meant to be Never pick friends you can just call em enemies, if that's how it is
You can shove your memories

Just let me go
You're fucking twisting the knife in
Backed against a wall
Living your nightmare
You are just a passing wave in the water
A raindrop in the sky

You can't just die die die die
No matter where you run just
Hide hide hide from view

If I am the one thing you are holding on to
