

Revolution Anthem

Wine From Tears

You would be chained
If you just have the wrong view
So, bite you tongue my darling keep it up
You must stay calm your way is to endure
How do you like this prospect?
Don't you?

All alone
Free your mind from fear and go
All for one
We've walked this path for far too long
All these toothless years we spent
We were convulsively silent
The scars on your heart are the payback
For the freedom that you get

Don't ask your questions
If you want to be safe
Just bend you knee
And dissolve in the crowd
The say you are not able
To change something
Because you are like them,
You're all the same

If you'll call
I'll be the one who gives hand
To take care of you
United we stand
You know...
Divided we fall
