Time Bomb

Winger

You had enough, but you wanted more
You played the bluff till you got through the door
Thought you were tough, so you started a war

Peddling all your fool's gold
Never mind how fast it corrodes
In the end, we all reap what we sow

You're like a ticking time bomb
Run from your shadow, run like the wind
And your life's too far gone
Run from your shadow, ditch your sins
And fate's crushed your grand facade
Don't dare ever looking back again
Taste your self-destruction
Keep on running, run like the wind

Two-sided face got you just what you need
Any bond you made that crossed you, just hit delete
But now you're disgraced and you're down on your knees

Tempted fate, but something went wrong
You summoned Murphy's Law
And now your two faces meet as one

You're like a ticking time bomb
Run from your shadow, run like the wind
And your life's too far gone
Run from your shadow, ditch your sins
And fate's crushed your grand facade
Ditch your life and the mess you're in
Taste your self-destruction
Keep on running, but you're never gonna win

Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction

Your devil-may-care last hurrah
You summoned Murphy's Law
And now your two faces meet as one

You're like a ticking time bomb
Run from your shadow, run like the wind
And your life's too far gone
Run from your shadow, ditch your sins
Fate's crushed your grand facade
Wipe out the memories of who you've been
Taste your self-destruction
The fruit of your seduction

Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction
Taste your self-destruction
