I'm singing LA LA

People beside me ask, "What's wrong?"
"Why are you singing like you're crazy?"
Don't ask me the reason because I'm alright
Let's just sing as if we're crazy

Honestly speaking, when was the last time you raised your voice?
We're always busy being wary of people
We even put our hands together when we're on the phone (custom of politeness
Be comfortable, when you start losing your emotions
Even if you're not drunk, loudly say, "Ahhh yeah!"

I'm like this because I'm frustrated
I'm like this because I keep getting angry
If I don't sing until my throat explodes
I feel like I'll go insane

Sing it loud, la, sing, until the police car comes Sing it loud, la, sing, until you get driven to the hospital

I'm singing LA LA

Whoo I want to breathe
Even if I pass out because of work instead of the micro dust
I want to squeeze into the trending line* (*making connections in an office setting)
To all worries, bye!
My juniors look up to me
Even just imagining it makes me happy
When I sing this song, I'm a protagonist too

I'm like this because I'm helpless
I'm like this because nothing is working out
My heart feels blocked so if I don't let this out
I feel like I'm going to die

Singing LA LA, sing
Until the police car comes
Singing LA LA, sing
Until you get driven to the hospital
Singing LA LA

Living life like a model citizen
Just produces more mental illnesses
I'm tired of this damned world now

La, la, shout, let's get reported for singing loudly and go to the police station
La, la, shout, let's get tired from screaming and get driven to the hospital
Ahh

Singing LA LA, sing
Until the police car comes
Singing LA LA, sing
Until you get driven to the hospital
