

Forever Gone

Winterborn

We can't go on, our love is lost
Drifted apart, my road goes on

I'm not like a flame that you can blow out, and light up again when you want to
I tried to explain, love is no game
Cause I know that you are

You, falling down from the edge of the world, with no one to hold on I'm walking the tunnel of light, away from you

Out in the night again, drifting into another day
I'm a runaway, not a victim of love

And I will break these chains, a bleeding heart is something I won't leave behind me
So I will turn and walk away, cause I know that you are

You're falling down from the edge of the world, with no one to hold on
I'm walking the tunnel of light, away from you

Out in the night again, drifting into another day
I'm a runaway, not a victim of love anymore

This love forever gone
I don't need you anymore

After all, now's the time to say goodbye, to let go
So here I go again..

Out in the night again, drifting into another day
I'm a runaway, not a victim of love anymore

You better know it was the last time, oh baby

I'm a runaway, not a victim of love anymore
This love forever gone