

Take Me Home

Wisdom In Chains

Take me home (2x)

Do you ever regret your life?
Are you where you wanna be?
Did you take a wrong turn?
Or are you living your destiny?

Is it too late to right the ship?
Or will you just lay down and die?
Are you giving up after all you took?
Underneath a foreign sky

Are you where you wanna be?
Can't tell the killers from the healers
I'm fighting just to breathe
Take me home
I've been awake for days
I'm feeling ripe for the reaper
Can this be happening?
Take me home

I know about loss
I've paid the price for wasting time
I've seen those eyes on the horizon
Of every friend of mine

I knew a man who met a man
Who was lost on the edge of the blasted lands
For three days and nights I was by his side
Trying to keep his hope alive

Are you where you wanna be?
Can't tell the killers from the healers
I'm fighting just to breathe
Take me home
I've been awake for days
I'm feeling ripe for the reaper
Can this be happening?
Take me home

To my bed
To my love
To my world
Take me home

Every sinner you know, they're coming home
The feeling overcomes and warms you to your bones
Trying to hide is like squeezing water from a stone
Even wanderers will find their way back home
Every soldier that's fighting for a cause
Every preacher and deceiver, one and all
Every street disciple criminal and thug
Had better make peace with the people that they love

Every hero, every sinner, every saint
Before you know you'll be asleep while you're awake
The ocean's calling you into it's warm embrace

The ocean's calling you so you can be at peace

Take me home
I'm coming home
