

City

With Confidence

I'm melting in the streetlights
And I'm moving through the midnights
And I lose myself and all I had
Sink into the city of blood and light

Crawl into the morning
Floating through the ceiling
And I pull myself through all the cracks in these walls
Breaking my skin every inch that I crawl

Is this city alive?
'Cos it's turning me inside out
It's tearing my soul in two
And every single thing I do
Just ain't enough for you

Rolling through the valley
Shadows in the alley
And I'm calling in the dark just to hear your name
Surrounded by the lights that fill your brain

Spilling out over my head
All these wounds just never bled
I keep one hand across my chest
And I swear to God I've tried

Is this city alive?
'Cos it's turning me inside out
It's tearing my soul in two
And every single thing I do
Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you

Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you

Is this city alive?
'Cos it's turning me inside out
It's tearing my soul in two
And every single thing I do
Just ain't enough for you
Is this city alive?
'Cos it's turning me inside out
It's tearing my soul in two
And every single thing I do
Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you
Just ain't enough for you
It's tearing my soul in two
And every single thing I do
Just ain't enough for you
