

The Turnaround

With Confidence

And I could never find my way around the roads I walked on
And every single day the ground is crawling underneath
And I can never be the one to say I got this all wrong
In every single way I think I'm falling in between

But I wanna be brave, and I wanna feel changed
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"
And I wanna see waves, and I wanna hear break
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"

Take me to the place in angel city that we long for
Just a cup of coffee and a conversation too
You said that everything that happens always passes, move on
I told you I would do it all again, it's all for you

But I wanna be brave, and I wanna feel changed
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"
And I wanna see waves, and I wanna hear break
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"

All the worry, all the doubt
All the things that keep you down
I have a reason to believe
Everything is gonna be fine yeah, yeah
Breathe it in and breathe it out
Know the air will clean you out
Now or never here and now
Let's make today the turnaround

You said that everything that happens always passes, move on
I told you I would do it all again, it's all for you

But I wanna be brave, and I wanna feel changed
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"
And I wanna see waves, and I wanna hear break
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"

And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"
And I wanna see waves, and I wanna hear break
And I wanna say, "let's make today the turnaround"
Let's make today the turnaround