Tonight

With Confidence

And every book it reads the same
And all the pages never change
Growing tired of this same fake feeling
Only so much to a game
Before the cards all fall the same
Sick and tired of this hand they're dealing

But like the sun breaks through the clouds
Your tired voice broke through the sound
And rearranged my little head this evening
The greys are turning baby blue
Now babe my only plan is you
And all the precious time that I'll be stealing

So let me

So let me take you out tonight
All that I could show you
Breathe these city lights
Let the beat control you
You'll forget your life
Everything they told you
You could lose your mind
If you want I'll show you

Only so much to a game
Before the cards all fall the same
Sick and tired of this hand they're dealing
But like the light pushed through and down
Your pretty face broke through the crowd
And left me puzzled wondering how this evening

So let me, so let me

So let me take you out tonight
All that I could show you
Breathe these city lights
Let the beat control you
You'll forget your life
Everything they told you
You could lose your mind
If you want I'll show you

Oh everything this city brings
And every light that's shimmering

Oh everything this city brings

So let me take you out tonight
All that I could show you
Breathe these city lights
Let the beat control you
You'll forget your life
Everything they told you
If you want

So let me take you out tonight
All that I could show you
Let the beat control you
Everything they told you
You could lose your mind
If you want I'll show you

I'll show you
I'll show you
