

Understand

With Confidence

I told you I couldn't do this
Gotta be alone with these thoughts
Not for my heart but for my art
A lonely cause
I'm done with just tasting the nights that I want
Cause a taste is fine just for the night
But I need more

And I'm burning out
Oh every single second I am learning now
Oh every single minute I am trying out
Living life tonight without a light

And understand that my mind is away, today
And understand that my colours are grey, they're grey
Oh how they're grey

Oh no but I couldn't do this
Be alone with these thoughts
Not for my heart or for my art
It's such a chore
And I'm through with just tasting
The nights that I want
Cause the taste is fine just for the night
But I need more

And I'm burning out
Oh every single second I am learning now
Oh every single minute I am trying out
Living life tonight without a light

And understand that my mind is away, today
And understand that my colours are grey, they're grey
Oh how they're grey

And understand that my mind is away, today
And understand that my colours are grey, they're grey
Oh how they're grey

With everything, everything that is burning down
With everything, everything I am learning now
With everything, everything that is burning down
With everything, everything I am learning now

And understand that my mind is away
(With everything, everything that is burning down
With everything, everything I am learning now)
And understand that my colours are grey
(With everything, everything that is burning down
With everything, everything I am learning now)