

Alone

Within Destruction

I feel like everything is falling apart
This hatred consumes my reasoning
My body burns with rage
My mind is craving revenge

My serenity is broken
I never felt so detached
As this hatred consumes me
I feel so fucking cold

I never felt so alone
Torn between realities in a place I once called my home

My heart - it never felt so cold

We all fall apart
I've seen the end of this existence

I'll end this life - obliteration
It's time to end this life

I'm gonna watch this world burn down in flames
I don't give a fuck if you die within the blaze
I'll take myself to the promised land
It is the birthplace of the beginning and the end

It's so fucking cold
I never felt so alone

I never felt so alone
Torn between realities in a place I once called my home

This is the end of our road
I'm standing in the cross-path of destiny
Between reality and a place I once called home

So stay where you belong inside my mind
You're just a fragment of this fantasy
Sealed within forsaken realms
Forever suppressed and immersed

I won't be forgotten
I won't become your rotten legacy

I will never be a memory
