

As I Drown

Within Destruction

Now it's the time for me too see
What's it like to be free

I'll take one last deep breath
And descend to my cold eternal sleep

Pull me down, wake me up
Let me choke, for the crown
See me rise, from the see
Thousand flies, worship me

Is this how it ends
Is this what the presence of death feels like
What if there are flowers at the bottom of the sea
What if there is still a way for us to be
For us to be

The more I drown the better I see
No more bad dreams, disappointed mornings
This is the fucking reality

The water starts turning into ice
Frostbites slowly take the pain away
Is this how the chosen ones decay

See me rise, from the see
Thousand flies, worship me