

FATE // SEPARATE

Within Destruction

We built our dreams on fragile sands
Now, they're slipping away, grain by grain through our shaking hands
The distance feels like a bitter sea
I'll sever the tie that's crushing you and me

Will you take another step?
Will you separate the hell you put me through?
I can't excuse
Burn it down
Bring the end
Burn it down
Burning it down again

The distance feels like it's a bitter sea
I'll cut these ties before they're crushing me

We'll burn it down, break every bond that ties me to you
We still can change our fate, separate

I roam alone as my path unfolds
Only fate can tell what the future holds
All this time, you've kept a veil over my mind
The chains of yesterday have finally been unbound

The distance feels like a bitter sea
Severing the ties, crushing you and me

Will you take another step?
Will you separate the hell you put me through?
I can't excuse
Burn it down
Bring the end
Burn it down
Burning it down again
Burning it down again
Burning it down again

The distance feels like a bitter sea
I'll sever the tie that's crushing me
