Within Destruction

I will never return
There's nothing left of me

In the shadows of the night, my mind is frozen still Bound by fear, I cannot breathe, consumed by fright and thrill
I'm paralyzed, I cannot move, my body suffocates
I'm screaming in silence with no escape

Visions of dread are haunting me
Through the deaths of darkness, I'm controlled

I'm trapped inside
My own self-made prison
I'm lost, I'm scared
I long for the light
There's no escaping, walls are closing on me
Nobody with me when my sanity leaves me, me
There is nothing left of me

Within this twilight realm, I'm caught
No solace found in the midnight frost
In the shadows they conspire to Feed my torment and desire

Haunted by visions that intertwine
In desolation, I'm confined

I'm trapped inside
My own self-made prison
I'm lost, I'm scared
I long for the light
There's no escaping, walls are closing on me
Nobody with me when my sanity leaves

In this creeping realm, I struggle just to stay alive
I cannot move, I cannot breathe, how will I survive?
The deeper I go, the more I burn
From this nightmare, I fear I will never return

I will never return
Return
There's nothing left, nothing left, nothing left of me

I'm trapped inside
My own self-made prison
I'm lost, I'm scared
I long for the light
There's no escaping, walls are closing on me
Nobody with me when my sanity leaves me, me
There is nothing left of me
