Nightmare

Within Destruction

I've been confined in my own shell for so long
Cannot even see my own reflection in the mirror
The years have taken its toll on this life
Yearning for the days much more simpler and kind

Do you remember your darkest memories
Crawling (I) and aching (will take) and crushing (your life) an d burning
Twisting and turning, all wrapped up inside your mind

I can feel the darkness bursting from inside
Will I lose my mind, will I survive this everlasting horror

This is my darkest nightmare
Pierce my anxious heart and you'll forever set me free

I've reached the point of no return
I'm just a shadow of my former self
Nothing can restore the failure of my sanity
Set me free

I can feel the darkness bursting from inside
Will I lose my mind or will I survive

This is my darkest nightmare
Pierce my anxious heart and you'll forever set me free
This is my darkest nightmare
While I bleed I wonder if anyone will remember me

Will you remember me when I die
When I die
Will you remember?

(Die, die) remember me (die, die) when I die
(Die, die) remember me (die, die) when I'm dead

I can feel the darkness bursting from inside
Will I lose my mind or will I survive this everlasting horror

This is my darkest nightmare
Pierce my anxious heart and you'll forever set me free
This is my darkest nightmare
While I bleed I wonder if anyone will remember me
