

Tarnished

Within Destruction

Our hope is shattered by the vessel of divinity
Paradise is lost, imbedded in corruption
Our hope is shattered, we will suffer, we will die
Paradise is lost, we've fallen from grace

Banished from the lands between
Unworthy to dwell among the sacred
Exiled, forgotten
Alone I suffer this misery
I suffer this treachery

We are the tarnished
Cast away from the lands of bliss
We are the wretched
These cursed realms have become our new home

And now you've tasted suffering
As you beg and you plead for our return
To restore what once was a unity

So, you think that you've been agonized
I'll show you the purest form of misery
The purest form of misery
A self-perpetuating torment

Preservation of prosperity - a degradation of humanity
You will not survive this downfall

The calamity of the tarnished souls
Our empty hope is the ruin of divinity

Our hope is shattered by the vessel of divinity
Paradise is lost, imbedded in corruption
Our hope is shattered, we will suffer, we will die
Paradise is lost, we've fallen from grace

I suffer this treachery

My faith has been sealed from creation
I am just a vessel for what is yet to come
My sanity is lost
I am just a puppet, I obey your every command

This is where all life ends
The massacre will reign supreme
No soul will survive
All men will be left behind
This is the restoration
The tarnished has been crowned
This is our desecration
The foul union has been rebound
