Witt Lowry

See I'm a lot to digest, I digress, but demand your attention
Hey Mr. teacher, thanks a lot, I learned a lot from your lessons
Like buy overpriced books, plan my life around testing
And all my friends graduated, now its jobs they're stressing
See your degree is just a pre-determined destiny
But what if my degree invests less than my life would invest in me
I'm screaming team Witty till the death of me
Y'all can have the rest of me
The fate of humanity may just rest in me
But don't worry, I do real rap too
Like pussy, money, weed, girl go and do what you do
I got a bitch in the back, give me dome in a coupe
Honestly how does that not sound stupid to you
You see they're seeing dollar signs, I see young minds that need help
I probably would crash and burn if this was all for myself
You probably would crash and burn with the hand I was dealt
But see I chose a legacy over material wealth and that's real

I need to be alone sometimes
I had to let you go from my mind
I think its time you leave
I think its time you leave
I don't think you're worth it, nah
You were never worth it, nah
I think its time you leave
I think its time
You, you, you, you leave

Oh here we go again, you sound like Em, oh I sound like who?
Cause honestly to me really I just sound like the truth
And if I'm a mix of Em and Drake, then I'm the best in the booth
Nah fuck that, I strive for incomparable
You see just like Medusa's hair, my peers turn into snakes
You were real cool in high school, in the real world you're fake
And in real life "I'm prom queen" doesn't translate
In the real world, you meat heads don't really hold weight
I know, I know a nine to five would probably be safer
But I could never waste my life, work at a desk push paper
Irrelevant, you try to disrespect me
Its up to me to make sure you regret every day that you ever left me
These fake friends are sly, shady and actors
Laughter at the fact that I dreamt of being a rapper
But see you are lame and lazy, I am not, you did not factor
I'm busy chasing my dreams, reflecting on all and after that's real

And in today's world, nobody's words mean shit
But the greatest waves movie make your eyes sea sick
You peoples true colors show, I see it in black and white
I keep my mind open and my circle tight
People rather make excuses than ever to listen
They just wait for their turn to talk and defend they position
If you don't get the situation, don't give your opinion
You can't buy my respect unless you paying attention
Some people you call friends, they enemies in denial
They say they want the best for you, but hate to see you smile
Who are you to judge when you the one to steal my style

Don't be talking like a grown up, you acting like a child, bitch
Uh, don't start something you can't finish
I see you lying, tiger and I don't bear with it
Yeah, the barenness runs in my blood
People saying I changed, but never knew who I was Whats up
