

The Lights

Witt Lowry

Hello, my name's Witty, I'm fucking half sane Trying to play me, well you ain't playing with the game Imma show you what I got and what I got is everything And i'm rapping with words full of forces that sting Lemme take you way back to the beginning Understand me and the life that I was living I was only bout eleven and I moved eleven times bunch of different schools
I ain't trying fucking whine but i'm showing you my life
Had to make a picture, school wasn't easy Kids like to pick you apart Imma easy target high voice as a start, long hair doesn't help high socks torn apart But ended up where I think I kinda fit in Made a couple friends everything was beginning Not Charlie sheen but I felt like I was winning
But it doesn't end there fat ladies not singing
Had to move again, I moved in with my grandma Things got rough there she wasn't a fan of me or anything I do we would often argue
I just get home from school and she'd already be yelling
That could last all night just a brief overview you all underst and right?
One weekend, everything really went south My mom sister arrived came home had to change the locks on the house(?)
That led to another move, another school and I had to leave my friends, a place I was finally cool
And at this new school it was much bigger didn't know many ther e
But I figured that I would meet people everything would be fine so I went to school did my work and in the meantime Made a few friends but I didn't belong Met a few girls all of them did me wrong School flew by and soon I was out Wanted to learn more so I took the college route and by now eve rything had settled down
Searching for something and my something is what I found
Two years in college as I focused on my studies
I still was missing something I was still hungry Started making music then everything clicked Spit a couple bars people saying that i'm sick So I thought Id test it and in steps Witty and of course I got haters people saying that i'm shitty But I dealt with the haters like the bullies in the past turn a round told them all they could all kiss my ass
The positive response was enough to outweigh In one summer got a show and I made a mixtape, which is not an achievement, its just a start Now i'm rapping with passion and I'm full of fucking heart

The past isn't easy but that's how you learn I'm on this ride of life now i'm taking my turn this brings us full circles to where were at now Here with this pen and paper. Just sitting on the couch Turning off the lights from the past Now lights for the future, lets make them last now, lets make t hem last now, lets make them last now, make em last now
