Yeah it's real shit

Let me roll this weed up and wrap this shit, you know

Too much purple for me

Uh, coming up I always thought I'd be the runner up Gave my all but it felt like it wasn't enough I remember spending summers in the studio My pops told me have fun be a kid for once What he ain't know, was for a kid a that I had big dreams I take a small frame turn it into a big screen Taking best friends turn them to a good team I'm watching Scarface living all the good scenes Burning dope thinking about the days when I was broke Desperate niggas in my city don't know how to cope Young nigga said he starving he ain't got a meal Down to catch a body all about a dollar bill My niggas is all I got so it's more than trust We ain't even have a car we was on the bus Public transportation now it's underground we make it Throw it in the safe I can't hear what they say

I'm packing up my bags
Packing up my bags, packing up my bags
I gotta catch a plane
Gotta catch a plane, gotta catch a plane
I can't be at home
Can't be at home
I gotta be away
Gotta be away, gotta be away

There's just way to many niggas I use to know back in the day Now when I see them out I just don't got shit to say to you niggas When I see you in the club I make my way through you niggas You must be mad I ain't wait on you But no matter the circumstances I never get hate on you Im just taking all my dream trying to make it facts Putting on for my team trying to make it crack Getting all sorts of green trying to make a stack Lose yourself in my city and never make it back Said he will but the chances are he will never change Daddy sold dope but you would probably do the same thing If I get $30K I would probably spend it on my wrist Fuck these politics when these kids ain't have a pot to piss Fuck the Promises, the shit I'm on is common sense If you ain't talking them I'm gone

I'm packing up my bags
Packing up my bags, packing up my bags
I gotta catch a plane
Gotta catch a plane, gotta catch a plane
I can't be at home
Can't be at home
I gotta be away
