

Just Two Girls

Wolf Alice

I was looking at her extensions
She looked so pretty, it was fucking offensive
She said, "If you want long hair, then just go and get it"
I said, "You're so right"
You're so right
When did you become so obsessed
With all the things you do and do not possess?
Do you think you let this world get a little to your head?
I said, "You're so right"
And you're so wise

I like the way she chain-smokes incessantly
Tiny epiphanies when she's drinking with me
She likes the way I over-hypothesize
The people in the room

Then I undress my every thought
The way that you can't pay for
Just two girls at the bar
Like two kids in the park
Here's the stage, you're the star
Just two girls
Just two girls
Just two girls

We're still sipping on our palomas
But the night is young if I know you like I know you
You know the best part is the debrief on the hangover
Yeah, you're so right
You're so right

I like the way she chain-smokes incessantly
Tiny epiphanies when she's drinking with me
She likes the way I over-hypothesize
The people in the room

When I undress my every thought
The way that you can't pay for
We're just two girls at the bar
Like two kids in the park
Here's the stage, you're the star
Just two girls
Just two girls
Just two girls

Undress my every thought
The way that you can't pay for
Just two girls at the bar
Like two kids in the park
Here's the stage, you're the star
Just two girls
Just two girls
Just two girls
