

Leaning Against The Wall

Wolf Alice

It really, really made the room sing
The way you said my name
Like you could not believe I'd be here
Though our friends are all the same
I wanted you to walk on over
But you turned and went the other way
I followed you around the corner
Now I'll always picture you this way

Leaning against the wall
You put my world in slow-mo
You put my name up in lights
Because doesn't anybody love you more than I do?
Isn't anyone out there?

"Is love our greatest performance?"
I thought as you spun me 'round
Perfect displays of affection
Well, it takes two, so there's always a crowd
I dance so you will watch me
That doesn't hurt my pride
I like the thrill of my performing
When I abuse the courage of white wine

And you're leaning against the wall
You put my world in slow-mo
You put my name up in lights
Because doesn't anybody love you more than I do?
Isn't anyone out there?
Because
Because doesn't anybody love you more than I do?
Isn't anyone out there?

Leaning against the wall
Leaning against the wall
Leaning against the wall
