

I can't tell who you think you are
You're just another heart-ache in my name
I guess that I deserve the blame
You're just so different now
I don't know you anymore
You keep letting me down
You left me at the door
And I won't pretend that I never hurt you
I'm saying sorry again
But at least I'm trying Giving everything I've got
While you're wishing it away
You are everything I'm not

I can't stop this pain, can't stop this hate
I'm sick and tired of you running away
No, you'll never stop, I'll never give up
What were you thinking when you said this was love?
All you want is to bring me down, try to keep me down
Don't look away when you said you would stay
I hope you meant it this time, though I won't confide

You're just so different now
I don't know you anymore
