

Where we going?
I don't know if you're holding me back
You really put me through it
Yeah, I'm stuck in the middle
Hand on the trigger, I'm tempted a little, but
Could you open up if you wanted to?
Am I blinded by the faith I put in you?
Say you have to go, then you overstay
I think I hate you, but I just can't turn away

I can't remember the days
When you used to cherish my name
Don't be so dramatic
We're both melted plastic
And that's just the name of the game

Should I let you fall? Are you too far gone?
'Cause after all, I'm stuck in the middle
Hand on the trigger, I'm tempted a little, but
Could you open up if you wanted to?
Am I blinded by those sexy things you do?
Say you have to go, then you overstay
I think I hate you, but I just can't turn away

Stay awake for hours
Just to pass the days
On second thought
It's all I've got
It's making me behave

I can't remember the days
The look on your face hasn't changed
We've grown so damn toxic
There's no love, we lost it
And that's how our story's explained

Should I let you fall? Are you too far gone?
'Cause after all, I'm stuck in the middle
Hand on the trigger, I'm tempted a little, but
Could you open up if you wanted to?
Am I blinded by the faith I put in you?
Say you have to go, then you overstay
I think I hate you, but I just can't turn away
