

DREAM SNATCHER

Wolf & Bear

Before you notice that it's missing
Your eyes, they lost their glow
I see into the future, nobody to love
No hands to hold

Like a thief in the night shaking hands with the moonlight
Like a thief in the night plays a fool when the time's right

Nightmares come true, crawling in the back of my thoughts again
Pushing me, pulling me, sinking underneath the waves
What keeps the demons at bay?
Nightmares come true, crawling in the back of my thoughts again
Nobody's making a change, lost in a heretics game

I'm starting over like a mad man
Contemplate, twist of fate, now in God's hands
Feel the pain the venom setting in my skin

Watch the patterns start to change, yeah
Make believe, nothing's free, oh no no no
We speak in different languages

If it's not you, then who's it gonna be now
Controlled our past, because you never reached out
Consume repeat, always leaves you incomplete
If it's not me, then who's it gonna be now?

And I can't stop thinking about, you oh like all the time
And you keep on coming back right, back right in my life
You don't ever have to be alone
You don't ever have to be alone, yeah

Looking at them back step, marching straight to the grave
When the world is burning and there's nothing more left to say
You don't ever have to be alone
You don't ever have to be alone
You don't ever have to be alone, yeah

No one ever thought I'd be this brave
Changed my hair, changed my name
Now nothing's gonna be the same
What's the purpose? Was it worth it?
Time capsule but no shovel to unearth it

No one ever thought that you'd be this brave
Said a prayer, kept your name, hope that things are gonna stay the same
There's a purpose, was it worth it?
Time capsule, let it live beneath the surface

I can feel you crawling in the back of my thoughts again
Loving me, touching me, holding me, fucking me, babe
Can't even picture the things that you say

I can feel you crawling in the back of my thoughts again
Loving me, touching me, holding me, fucking me, babe
Can't even picture the things that you say

Nightmares come true, crawling in the back of my thoughts again (Nightmares come true, when I'm looking at you)
Pushing me, pulling me, sinking underneath the waves (Nothing that I can do)
What keeps the demons at bay?
Nightmares come true, crawling in the back of my thoughts again (Nightmares
come true, when I'm looking at you) Nobody's making a change, you know, nothing to say (And there's nothing I'll do)
