

K. RESORT

Wolf & Bear

Everything I thought I knew was a fucking lie
Can't even flee, left incomplete tonight
Caught in the act, unsettling
Awakened profane. I'm trembling

Out of the ash, I fall just like the others do
Stop wait, I know that I can make it through
You don't want me around?
I guess I'll sink into the ground
Yeah, I'll sink into it

Out of pocket, when no one is watching
No time for stopping when life is an option
Being a product, won't make you a prophet
An empty store front with no window shopping

Please say the words back to me
I want an honest choice, you want a symphony
You look around and you have nothing left
Threw it all away without a second guess
Oh, yes

Oh, baby girl (Baby girl)
Looking down on the top of the world (My world)
Everything is hopeless, every home is broken
I'm suspicious, girl
Nothing inside of your eyes
Selling your soul underpriced
Are you really formless?
What's your real motive?
Did you ever have a spine?

Dragging me down, lead into the crypt
When my hands were only searching to establish a grip
I will not preach what I'm not praying
Everything on fire isn't always worth saving

Breathe deep, break out of the mold
Life wasn't perfect and you lost control
I do not mean to impose
But losing your worth never ended in gold, yeah

Purple haze, I'm spilling all over the place
Wipe the juice off, all of my face
I wanna know what you've been thinking about
How many times was it me throwing up in the crowd?

Now piece it all together for me
I miss your spirit and I need it low key
Locked in the basement where the shadows know me
Goodbye sunshine, darkness take me
Save me

Waiting, I wait all day
The dark is no longer safe

Nobody screaming, no one making a sound (Not a sound)

No conversation, just a shot in the crowd (In the crowd)
Give me back all the time you've stolen
Six shots, they keep 'em loaded

Please say the words back to me
I want an honest choice, you want a symphony
You look around and you have nothing left
Threw it all away without a second guess
Please say the words back to me
I want an honest choice, you want a symphony
You look around and you have nothing left
Threw it all away without a second guess
Oh, yes

Oh, baby girl (Baby girl)
Looking down on the top of the world (My world)
Everything is hopeless, every home is broken
I'm suspicious, yeah
Nothing inside of your eyes
Selling your soul underpriced
Are you really formless?
What's your real motive?
Did you ever have a spine?

Dragging me down, lead into the crypt
When my hands were only searching to establish a grip
I will not preach what I'm not praying
Everything on fire isn't always worth saving, yeah

Grow up and do what you're told
Fussing and fighting, yeah, it's getting old
I do not mean impose
But losing your worth never ended in gold

I know you have to let go
Somethings you just can't control
Can't live the life that you stole
We have to let go, you have to let go now
I know you have to let go
We keep on losing control
No point in saving my soul
We have to let go, you have to let go now