I'll Believe in Anything

Wolf Parade

Give me your eyes I need sunshine Give me your eyes I need sunshine Your blood Your bones Your voice And your ghost

We've both been very brave Walk around with both legs Fight the scary day We both pull the tricks out of our sleeves

But I'll believe in anything And you'll believe in anything Said I'll believe in anything And you'll believe in anything

If I could take the fire out from the water I'd share a life and you'd share a life If I could take the fire out from the water I'd share a life and you'd share a life If I could take the fire out from the water I'd take you where nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn Said nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn

And I could take another hit for you And I could take away your trips from you And I could take away the salt from your eyes And take away the spitting salt in you And I could give you my apologies By handing over my neologies And I could take away the shaking knees And I could take away the shaking knees Oh look at the trees and look at my face and look at a place far away from h ere

Give me your eyes I need sunshine Give me your eyes I need sunshine Your blood Your bones Your voice And your ghost

We've both been very brave Walk around with both legs Fight the scary day We both pull the tricks out of our sleeves

But I'll believe in anything And you'll believe in anything

If I could take the fire out from the water I'd share a life and you'd share a life If I could take the fire out from the water I'd share a life and you'd share a life If I could take the fire out from the water I'd take you where nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn I said nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn I said nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn either way About your blood Your bones Your voice And ghost Because nobody knows you And nobody gives a damn either way

And now I'll believe in anything
